"DIZZY" SPEAKS.

"F OR NEARLY FIVE YEARS, the present ministers have harassed and every profession and assailed or menaced every class, institution and species of property in the country. Occasionally they have varied this state of civil warfare by perpetration some job which outraged public opinion, or by stumbling into mistakes which have been always discreditable and at times ruinous."

How true these words of Disraeli's may be as applied to at least one existing administration, we leave our readers to decide, and to place the cap where it may fit. Altering the text slightly we may well say: "As time advances it is not difficult to perceive that extravagance has been substituted for energy. The innatural stimulus has subsided. Their paroxysms end in prostration. Some have taken refuge in melancholy, and their eminent chief alternatives between a menace and a sigh. They remind one of a range of exhausted volcanoes. Not a flame flickers on a single pallid crater. But the situation is still dangerous. There are occasional earthquakes, and ever and anon the dark rumblings of the sea."

What a pity it is that today there exists no modern counterpart for the gay and gallant few to expose our present political parties which do not practice their principles because they have no principles to practice.

SELFISH ISOLATION

THE CLAIM IS MADE for Canada that she has reached the status of nationhood. Some even claim that she is a great nation. Her natal day was observed on the passing of the Statute of Westminster—so it has been claimed.

It is interesting to observe what a member of one of Gladstone's cabinet's had to say on the matter of independence and the policy of splendid isolation so popular today in certain circles in Canada and elsewhere on the North American continent:

"I can say for myself that I have always protested in the strongest terms against the policy of non-intervention or peace at any price, which I have always believed to be an unworthy and ignoble doctrine for any great nation to hold. I have always thought that a great nation like an individual had duties and responsibilities to its neighbors, and that it could not wear isolation as a policy of selfish isolation and say that nothing concerned it unless its material interests were directly affected."

Considering recent history as it concerns the foreign policy of Great Britain in Spain and elsewhere as applied by Neville Chamberlain, one wonders how serious the difficulties were in his path which prevented him from following this policy—just as it was the policy of his father, Joseph Chamberlain, when acting as Colonial Secretary.

NEWS AGENCIES

AN ARTICLE in Tuesday's Calgary Herald written by a Madame Tabouis, not a French Foreign correspondent and headed "General Urges Hitler to strike Smashing Blow etc" and in which the writer purports to disclose the whole of Hitler's plans with respect to Poland, Danzig, East Prussia, and Silesia aroused some faint memory. Admittedly we did not know, or had forgotten, that she is a "noted French Foreign Correspondent."

We found the key in Wyndham Lewis' "Count Your Dead-They Are Alive" at page 151 where he says:—

"Madame Tabouis is generally supposed to be the mouthpiece of Soviet diplomacy in the French Capital. If this is true, no wonder that her news is pretty potent and worthy listening to, and, of course, just a shade Red, or a good, steady, hectic pink."

The author then goes on to examine into the origin of certain stories published by The British United Press, Reuters', and other news agencies, tracing them to "the noted French Foreign Correspondent,"—the mouthpiece of Soviet diplomacy in Paris, just as it may be taken that Eugene Lyons, as a servant of the Soviet News Agency paid by Moscow, was the Soviet mouthpiece for Soviet diplomacy—or a lack of it—in America in days gone by.

Another type of propagandist—the Nazi Fascist—has sprung up in recent years, so that between the pull of the Communists and the Nazi, the democracies would need to be well with propagandists to enable them to keep on the middle of the road.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE

G OVERNMENT by decree, proclamation, order-in-council and edicts, all without appeal to the Courts, and tending towards dictatorship in Provincial affairs, has been the subject of public comment for some time, and various remedies are suggested.

While it might be an interesting experiment, the suggestion that we adopt a written constitution, to overcome the evils of the day in which we live, seems to us like wrong remedy. There is nothing wrong with the British system of Government. All that is wrong is the manner of men, who, for the moment have control, and the proper remedy is to get rid of them.

We know nothing of the causes of complaint in New Zealand. But we do know something of the trouble in Alberta. Usurpation of the office of Attorney General by an unqualified layman, law officers of the Crown trying to make legal that which they know to be illegal, interference in every form of public and private endeavor (as witness the E. I. D.)—all these nefarious things do not mean that the system is wrong. It merely means that the men in charge have not a proper conception of their offices, or having that, proper.

Parliamentary Sovereignty, (the sum total of the British constitution) is too valuable an heritage to discard simply because our legislators have chosen in every form of public and private endeavor, the wrong road. The proper time to remedy this state of affairs is at the next election.

It ought to be the job of the great daily newspapers to examine carefully. At the source of the news, these daily papers see that they are not the coloured views of a Communist masquerading as a "noted French Foreign Correspondent," or a Nazi in similar disguise, for they are both equally offensive to the nostrils. And if the newspapers will not do it then the Government concerned ought to take a hand in the matter, for the terrible power of propaganda must not be minimized nor overlooked.

CONQUEST THROUGH DECEPTION

HITLER HAS GOOD REASON to place his faith in machines, for he must realize how little enthusiasm he can whip up for war. The millions of Catholics and Protestants he is persecuting—what enthusiasm can they engender?

The labor unions that have been proscribed—what energy can they throw into the conflict? The Austrians, Czechs and Slavs now in his Reich—what can he expect from them but dumb obedience or passive resistance? There are also the Germans who belonged to parties other than National-Socialist—they became Nazified merely because their own parties were outlawed. They know that Hitler's subsequent conquests were achieved through deception, violence, brigandage and murder. What heart can they have to help him ride roughshod over others as he rode roughshod over them?—Vulcan Advocate.

GANDHI ADVICE

"STOP HITLER BY Disarming" is Gandhi's advice to Britain. As a strategist, the Mahatma is no slouch, but he is living in a world of his own. You can, of course, prevent housebreaking by leaving your doors open; you can prevent bloodshed by throwing up your hands when confronted by a thug; you can prevent arrests by disbanding your police force, but crime is not prevented by such means. It is only made easy.—High River Times

NO CONSCRIPTION IN CANADA

A STATEMENT MADE by Premier W. L. MacKenzie King in the House of Commons last week in the matter of conscripting Canadians for overseas service in the event of war made it manifest that the present government has no intention of following such a policy. Premier King said it was more important to have an united Canada than to introduce conscription. Hon. Dr. Manion, leader of the opposition has announced his opposition to conscription.

The province of Quebec is overwhelmingly opposed to the idea of forcibly ordering Canadians into an army to fight in overseas wars. In recent weeks Quebec hostility to conscription has been made manifest by resolutions and condemnatory speeches. The attitude of that province on this question has certainly influenced the policy of the government.

Premier King, however, did not positively eliminate any possibility of a conscription law. He said that as long as the present government was in power such a law would not be enacted, but if it occurs the chances are that an union government will be formed in Canada and it may well introduce a conscription law.

During the Great War the conscription act passed by the union government under Premier Borden nearly caused a rebellion in Quebec. If another war should occur there is every reason to believe that the French Canadians would be just as strongly opposed to the conscripting of their man power. If open civil war broke loose in Canada on this issue it would be a tragedy indeed.

If Great Britain goes to war Canada will be at war. The dominion cannot possibly hold aloof. It is quite likely that substantial numbers would volunteer for service in a Canadian expeditionary force, but it seems likely that the peril to the Empire would have to be very great before another conscription law is placed on the Canadian Statute Books.—Hanna Herald.

COMMUNITY SERVICES NECESSARY DUTY

THERE ARE TWO Major classes of citizens in any community. The first are those who recognize community services as a necessary duty, and there are others who look after their own selfish interests and cash in on the efforts of the community workers and grab anything that is going. This leads to the suggestion that those, who work together in community service should remember one another when business is being passed around, as "Saying it with business" is the best and most practical way on the back good fellows working together can give one another. And believe it or not, the lack of practical appreciation in this respect has caused many a good community worker to take his place on the side lines and decide to look after himself.—Drumheller Review.

1939 WHEAT CROP

WE APPEAL, WITH All the power behind this newspaper, to the Government of Canada to act wisely and not hastily in outlining and determining how to handle the 1939 wheat crop. If the present Government wants to receive the blessings of practically all the people they should do what the great majority of the people want done, and that is keep the price of wheat at a living level which is not less than 80¢ a bushel for all grain, and in the alternative pay the farmer on the basis of No. 1, $1.00 a bushel for the first 2,000 bushels from every farm in Canada and let the surplus over 2,000 be sold on the open market. In this way the importers will not take advantage of the situation and our country will prosper and the nation will be happy.—Cardston News.

INSURGENT IS PUNISHED

IN THE RECENT redistribution bill the provincial constituency of Innisfail is struck from the map and divided up between Rocky Mountain House and Red Deer, the major portion going to Red Deer. The western end of the riding is thrown up to Rocky Mountain House. No doubt this wiping out of Innisfail is a direct slap at our representative, Mr. A. E. MacLellan, "Social Credit" M.L.A., who was numbered among the insurgents. While we do not agree in some of Mr. MacLellan's theories we can say without fear of contradiction that he is one of the best members in the House today, a man with the courage of his convictions. Should the wiping out of his constituency mean that he will not be a candidate in the next election, Alberta will have lost a splendid representative. That Innisfail should be made the victim of petty spite is a fine indication of the calibre of Premier Abernethy and his cabinet.—Innisfail Province.

"Some Day I'm Going to Take it Easy"

THAT'S what thousands of men are promising themselves—a comfortable old age, freed from work and worry. And many are able to make their dreams come true, through their savings in Life Insurance.

Life Insurance does two important jobs. First, it protects widows and dependent children—providing them with necessary funds if they are obliged to carry on single-handed. Secondly, Life Insurance builds up a cash reserve for future years—enabling men and women to "take it easy" in their old age.

And millions of Life Insurance Dollars are put to work in financing farms and homes—schools and good roads—and many other worthwhile enterprises.

Letters to the Editor The Poet's Corner

(Ed. Note—Letters appearing under this heading may not necessarily agree with the views of this newspaper, and we accept no responsibility for their opinions. They are published as articles which might be of interest to readers, and replies to correspondence published in this column is invited.)

An open letter to Hon. J. O. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, to Farmers in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

April 11, 1939

The wheat situation is something that concerns all of us. In fact, a fair price is all to us—our very existence. $60 wheat is starvation. $60 wheat is less than a bare existence. $1.00 wheat is what we should have to break even. $1.25 to $1.50 wheat would be what we are entitled to.

If parliament at Ottawa supports a farmer and $60 wheat becomes law, and I for one don't believe it ever will do it, let us let it pass and let us see what it does. If we don't do this of our own accord it is forced on us with $60 wheat. If question is not settled to give us a fair deal before summer fallow—then come, suppose we don't do it. We are better off not to do it than if they insist on this $60 wheat.

Some of us may have machinery on order or other seasonal things. Well, let's cancel all of these and don't buy one piece of machinery so long as this situation exists. Our land for 1939 crop has been prepared and seeding time is on us—seed the land that you have in shape but do not prepare any for 1940 crop. "Rise what garden you can and feed your stock but don't raise any grain to market."

Fellow farmers, save your seed. Some fall of the best wheat you grow for seed when you need to use it, and fully—half—of grain—which you can use for food when you get a coffee mill grinder, and with all the vegetables that you can grow put them in your root houses and make them do till you can grow another crop of vegetables. The wheat will keep for food. Don't plant or grow any more wheat till the wheat question is settled to your satisfaction.

If you are going to go down to starvation, take the machinery houses the elevators and all industries with you. If the question is settled to take to your summerflow at right time, then don't do it. You can live just as well or better with a crop than you can try to raise $60 wheat. It can't be done and the Government knows it. Gardiner is only bluffing. Call his bluff—call it hard—stand pat and $60 wheat won't happen. If you don't fight and fight hard it might.

To the farmers in Saskatchewan, Gardiner's home Province—crucify him next election if it can't be done before. If you don't crucify him and get him out of politics he will crucify you. If the men you send to Ottawa won't look after your interests, better than Gardiner is to crucify them out and do it now. No time can be lost as reason for seed and summerflow is on us.

J. T. Todd, Chey.

RADIO NEWS

"LIFE AND LOVE OF DR. SUSAN"
In every city, town and community there are women who carry on an invaluable work — often receiving no credit whatever, and often working against tremendous odds. In the story of "Life and Love of Dr. Susan" now heard each day Monday through Friday over CPAC at 12:15 directly following "Big Sister" just such a character is portrayed.

It is a vital story of a woman who is wife, doctor, mother, and of her efforts to find her husband, lost in a tropical jungle—her struggle to build a practice against the prejudice and bigotry of the small town of Valleydale—the adventures of her two adorable children.

"Life and Love of Dr. Susan" deals with the most vital problems of a woman's life, and promises to become as popular with Canadian listeners as it has with listeners in the United States, where the programme originated.

The character of Dr. Susan is portrayed by Eleanor Phelps, who was born in Baltimore, and who is not only known for her characteristics, but also for her theatrical portrayals on Broadway. She recently appeared there with Maurice Evans in "Richard III".

ALICE PROST, Star of Big Sister, has been offered countless jobs teaching in dramatic schools all over the country, on the basis of her stage and radio work but has been kept too busy at the microphone to accept. Now she's being urged to make an album of transcribed settings for use in these institutions.

GOOD NEWS OF 1939

BOB YOUNG, master of ceremonies of the Good News of 1939 programme will present another stellar array of guests from the M-G-M Motion Picture lots during the broadcast on Thursday, 7:30, over CPAC. In addition to his guests, Young will have the assistance of his regulars, Fanny "Baby Snooks" Brice Hanley "Daddy" Stanger, Frank "Phantom" Morgan and Meredith Wilson and his orchestra, and the chorus. Morgan will let his imagination wander far afield, while Baby Snooks amazes the audience at the expense of Daddy Stanger. Musical highlights of the broadcast will include Wilson's concert ball features.

KRAFT MUSIC HALL

BING CROSBY and BOB BURNS will open the old Kraft Music Hall in Hollywood for another season of comedy and musical entertainment on Thursday at 8:00 over CPAC. Representatives from film colony and concert stage will be Bing's special guests for the evening. Burns, with more tales of his Van Buren folk, and John Scott Trotter and his orchestra with song hits of the day will round out the full-hour broadcast.

JOHN SCOTT TROTTER, renowned 240-pound musical director of NBC's Kraft Music Hall, and Sidney Ennis, maestro on the Bob Hope's Pepsi-Cola show, are room-mates.

An off-kilter colored mammy who does the serious cooking, but now and then Trotter and Ennis step into the kitchen to try their own hand at cookery.

INFORMATION PLEASE

In a return engagement by popular demand, Dorothy Parker will be joined with the other experts as an "Information Please" questioner on April 26th at 8:30 p.m. The regular Franklin P. Adams, John Kieran and the irrepressible, pianistic Oscar Levant will also be on the receiving end of the "stumpers" handed out by Clifton P. Fadiman in the Broadcast over CPAC.

DICK POWELL's great-grand father was the first Governor of Kentucky, the state in which Dick, who is now in the "Tuesday Night Party", got his first big break as a singer and master of ceremonies. Powell, first headed his own band and ended his first show in a Louisville, Kentucky theatre.

ECLIPSE OF SUN SEEN ON WEDNESDAY

A number of local citizens were seen peering at the sun from behind smoked glasses on Wednesday morning at this week, when a partial eclipse of the sun was in progress. The phenomenon occurred at approximately 9 a.m., and lasted for a considerable length of time. From observation, it could be seen that the sun was about three-quarters blotted out by the moon, when it passed between the province for the 1938-39 crop year beginning August 1st and extending to March 17th approximately 75.5 of the 1939 production.

Announcement of abandonment of certain railway lines in Alberta has resulted in plans by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce to investigate procedure for securing compensation for interests that would be affected.

POOR ADVERTISING IS WORSE THAN NONE

BUT ANY FORM OF ADVERTISING
MUST BE VERY, VERY POOR
TO BE WORSE THAN NONE

Take for example the mimeographed sheet, which probably is advertising in one of its poorest and most unattractive forms. It is hard to read, unattractive to the eye, lacks contrast, and lacks dignity, but we claim that it is better than none.

We sell printed advertising that is easy to read, and is well displayed to make it pleasing to the eye. We can sell you neatly printed advertising either through the newspaper columns, or printed—for direct-by-mail or house-to-house distribution. Make your own choice when you buy from us; but we recommend newspaper advertising as the most effective form of advertising that you can buy for the money.

It is easy to read, pleasing to the eye, is placed in a medium which is welcome in the home, and no other form can be more convenient to your prospective customer, or client, or patient, or patron—call him what you may. That is why newspaper space is the dependable stand-by of all large buyers of advertising.
